

Hot Walks on Mercury

General Schema/NR Script: For today's challenge, you must all get into pairs. (Once everyone is in pairs then we split the pairs in half to have our two “teams”) Each team will partake in a Richards run, while each team is holding onto their own rope and each player carrying a bag with 13 pounds of water weight. The teams would begin at opposite sides of an oval course. When Nicole says go, the teams would race to catch up to one another. Any team member may let go of the rope and drop out of the race, but they must pass their water to another player, who must carry the extra weight. The first team to catch up to the other tribe and tag them would gain Immunity. The players must remain on the outside of the oval.

The winning team will get a chance to compete for individual immunity. Each player will have to solve a fire puzzle. The first player to solve the puzzle and put their hands up and yell “check” wins immunity and a spot in the F9.
